RE: Message of Congratulations

Dear Comrades,

Delighted to learn that the Communist Party of India will convene its 24th National Congress from 14 to 18 October, the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China wishes to extend to you and, through you, to all the comrades of the Communist Party of India, our warm congratulations and best wishes.

As an important political force in India, the Communist Party of India stays committed to exploring a socialist path suited to its own national conditions and made positive contribution to the economic and social advancement of India. We believe that this Congress will surely inject new impetus into the development and progress of the Communist Party of India.

In two days' time, the Communist Party of China will convene its 20th National Congress. This Congress is a highly important meeting held at an important time when China has embarked on a new journey to build a modern socialist country in all respects and to realise the Second Centenary Goal. The Communist Party of China is ready to take the important congresses of our two parties as an opportunity to strengthen friendly contacts and exchanges and intensify mutual learning of governance experience with the Communist Party of India, so as to do better service to the development and renewal of our respective parties and countries.

Our world today is living through the combined impact of major changes and a pandemic both unseen in a century. The world has entered a new period of turbulence and transformation. Joint efforts and closer cooperation between China and India serve the common interest of both countries and the region as a whole. Under the new circumstances, the Communist Party of China is willing to work together with the Communist Party of India and other major political parties in India to promote the sound and steady development of China-India relations.

We wish the Congress a complete success!
